WELCOME TO OUR COMMUNITY

Whether you study at our Santa Fe campus in Mexico City or at our Región Centro campus in Aguascalientes, undertaking an exchange at CIDE offers the opportunity to become part of a small academic community with a broad academic and applied reach.

Officially known as the Center for Research and Teaching in Economics, CIDE is one of the leading social science research centers in Mexico. Its work encompasses not only economics but also law, political science, international relations, history, public policy and a range of related interdisciplinary topics, including migration, drug policy, accountability and regulation.

Established in 1974, CIDE is part of the national network of public research centers associated with the Mexican National Council of Science and Technology (CONACYT). It also hosts both the National Public Policy Laboratory (LNPP) and the Latin American regional office of the Centers for Learning on Evaluation and Results (CLEAR-LAC). Many alumni have taken on leadership roles in the public, private, and academic sectors and our faculty are active participants in academic and advisory networks in Mexico and abroad. Thus, though we may seem to be a small school, our community extends well beyond the classroom.

Academic Calendar (tentative dates)

Spring 2022: January 26–June 10

Fall 2022: August 15–December 20

Spring 2023: January 25–June 9

Important Note: CIDE cannot emit official grade reports or transcripts until after the end-of-semester professors' meetings. For the Fall semester, these meetings are normally held in late January and for the Spring semester in early August.

Language Requirements: Spanish B2

Although some courses are offered in English, the official language of instruction at CIDE is Spanish, and it is important to be prepared to complete course work in this language. Many professors, however, will accept written assignments in English.

Grading criteria:

Grades at CIDE are numerical. The highest possible grade is 10. Any grade below 6 is failing.

Credits:

On average, a 60-hour course corresponds to 8 credits, but this may vary based on class hours type of instruction.

Application procedure and required documents

Students nominated by an institution that has an exchange agreement with CIDE:

- completed application form
- statement of purpose, written in Spanish, explaining your interest in studying at CIDE
- official transcript, including current courses
- proof of Spanish-language proficiency
- copy of the identification page of your passport (Mexican citizens may submit a copy of their national identity card [INE])

Students interested in completing a semester as a visiting student should contact the DIPIE for information on the steps involved.

Visas.

Mexican visa requirements depend on nationality and length of stay. For a stay of one semester, students who do not require a visa to visit Mexico as a tourist will not require a student visa. For a stay of more than 180 days (two semesters) a student visa is required regardless of nationality. Please consult with the Mexican embassy or consulate in your home country.

Housing network.

CIDE does not have student housing. We do, however, maintain a list of housing options for visiting students. Please contact Jazmín Velázquez (jazmin.velazquez@cide.edu) for further details.
