

CIDE seeks applications to fill one tenure-track position (in econometrics, macroeconomics and applied microeconomics) and one limited term visiting assistant professor position at either its Mexico City campus or its Aguascalientes campus starting August 2023. Applicants must hold a Ph.D. in economics or related fields by August 2023.

The Department offers undergraduate and MSc programs in economics.

Candidates are expected to provide evidence of potential to develop an outstanding record of scholarly research and quality teaching. Expected teaching load is two courses per year. Prior knowledge of Spanish is preferred as it is expected that successful candidates should be able to teach in Spanish within one year after the initial appointment.

CIDE has a strong institutional commitment to diversity and inclusion. Women and members of all underrepresented groups are strongly encouraged to apply.

Candidates must include in their cover letter a brief statement of why they are interested in joining the faculty at CIDE, otherwise the application will not be considered.

Send CV, cover letter, job market paper and three letters of reference to daniel.ventosa@cide.edu no later than December 9, 2022.